BAPTISM

TESTIMONIES OF GRACE

Meara Wind was baptized on August 9, 2026.

"I was born in Colorado Springs, CO to a secular family. When I was still very young, my mom became a Christian. My father was very absent and not a believer. By the time I was four, he decided to leave the family and live separately. That same year I asked my mom to guide me through 'the prayer,' and while I saw some changes in my life, along with the development of Christian morals, I was not yet fully devoted to Christ as my Savior.

"My parents officially divorced five years later. By the time I started middle school, my father was arrested and I spiraled downward. Instead of reaching out to God, I preferred to wallow in self-pity, hating myself. My prayer life was decaying, I was spending no time in the Bible, and was always bored when listening to sermons at our church.

"Before I moved here three years ago, I began praying again, asking that God would surround me with godly friends and that I would grow close to Him. I never understood a father's love and never thought I deserved the deep love that I know the Lord has for me, but one thing my mother always said would echo in my head: 'you still have a Father, He is your Heavenly Father.'

"The Lord led me to Alpha Omega in my first semester of college at UNL, where I made real Christian friends for the first time in my life. I was no longer in that endless pit of despair. I became more curious about God and wanted to learn more about His love for me. The truth is, I was never alone in that pit. He was with me all the way, providing for me, even if I didn't ever recognize it at the time.

"While I'm unsure of the exact point when I surrendered my life to the Lord, I'm confident that He has chosen to make me a new creation. I've been growing steadily in my faith the past few months, learning more everyday as I walk beside Him. Without Jesus' grace, I would only be a sinner deserving of hell, but only through faith in Him can my sin no longer define me. I have chosen to turn from my worldly desires and sin, and accept Jesus' gift of salvation." ♦
