BAPTISM

TESTIMONIES OF GRACE

Isaac Jacobsen was baptized on October 18, 2026.

"My name is Isaac Jacobsen. I grew up at Indian Hills nearly my whole life, being raised by god-fearing parents that put me in church ministries, as well as teaching me the Word of God at home.

"From a young age, I heard and could articulate the gospel, but I never fully considered what that meant for my eternal state. About mid-elementary is when I started to consider my sin nature and how, if I kept living for myself, I'd perish in Hell. I made a habit of praying the 'sinner's prayer', but made no effort to change my life or serve Him.

"In middle school, we learned about the rapture and end-time judgement. This instilled a constant fear of the future and the rapture, because I knew I was a sinner that had yet to give up his sin, destined for Hell. Praying every night, I repeated the 'sinner's prayer' as if it were a spell or an insurance policy—though I still stubbornly held onto my sin and refused to make Christ Lord of my life. At that point, I gave up on claiming to be a Christian to please my parents and others, fully admitting that I was a lost sinner. I had a head knowledge of the gospel, but never a heart commitment. I learned about the doctrine of election and used that to shift the blame to God, claiming it was His will keeping me in my sin and apart from Him. Freshmen year rolled around and I joined the Ignite group. After a message concerning Christ's crucifixion, I remember how the story of Jesus' blood and sacrifice had left me in awe of His love for me, but I reminded myself that I had already tried, by my own power, and failed to be saved.

"I got put in a small group with the teacher, a sponsor, and upper classmen. The teacher asked me my testimony. I told him my rehearsed story of how I couldn't be saved. The others then shared their own testimonies. I heard how each one of them had forsaken their sin, taken up their cross, and made the choice to follow Christ. I broke down. I recognized my foolish thinking. I understood that it was not by my power, but God's. I understood that there was nothing I could do but ask Him to save me from my sin. I gave it all to Him. I gave up my life. Gave up my sin.

"Since then, the Lord has changed my desires to love the body of Christ and continue in His will. Through serving in children's ministry, Ignite group, and now AO, the Lord has led me closer to Him and I proudly boast, I am of Christ." ♦

on October 18, 2026.*

"I grew up here at Indian Hills in a Christian home with believing parents and family. I was a decent kid but I didn't desire to obey my parents or God's instruction. Growing up at the Hills, I heard the gospel countless times but never truly accepted it. I remember one time when I was about five, telling my dad that I had become saved and proved it was genuine because I was crying. After that, my life was still the same. I realize now that that was only emotion and not genuine repentance.

"In the summer of eighth grade, Austin Rugh had everyone write how confident they were in their salvation on a scale of one to ten. I wrote five, even though I was pretty sure I wasn't saved. It was completely anonymous, so the only reason I didn't put zero was because I was trying to deceive myself. Over the next few weeks, Austin taught through 1 John, which is about how to have assurance of salvation. In 1 John 1:6, it says that 'If we say that we have fellowship with Him and yet walk in the darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth'. It became evident to me that I wasn't walking in the light. I was living for myself and not for God.

"A few weeks later on a Sunday night, I talked to my parents. I told my mom that I wanted to be saved. My parents walked me through the gospel which I had heard countless times, but this was the first time I truly accepted it and genuinely made God the Lord of my life. After that, I had a desire to obey God's commandments, was opposed to the things of the world, and had strong convictions towards sin.

"Since then, I wish I could say that I had linear growth, but that wasn't the case. My growth has been up and down, but the general trajectory is upward. One of my biggest sources of growth has been getting involved in Alpha Omega. I am constantly being encouraged to stay disciplined, to serve, and to share the gospel.

"If anyone reading this hasn't put their faith in Christ, I encourage you to do it today. I had things I wanted to hold on to, but nothing in this world will bring satisfaction, only Jesus will." ♦
